AND THEY ARE CHAMPIONS! BROOKLYNS DISGRACEFULLY BEATEN BY THE TAIL-ENDERS.

Hanlon's Men Show a Surprising Reversal of Form at the Pole Grounds-Philadelphias wallop the Pittsburgs-Cincinnati Shate Out St. Louis-Other Games and Geselp.

After playing remarkably fast ball on the Western trip and securing a lead that appears to be safe, the champion Brooklyns met the disorganized New York tail-enders at the Polo grounds yesterday and were disgracefully heaten by a team that is inferior in every re-pect. Last year the Brooklyns took a similar slump in the middle of the season and unkind critics said they were working under a pull so that they would not have too great a lead. This, of course, was not the case, but it provided food for the sceptics. A few more such exhibitions as that of yesterday, however, will create talk among those who do not believe that baseball is on the square. The Philadelphias had a pienie with the Pittsburgs, who surrendered second place to the Chicagos. The Cincinnatis scored another shut-out, the St. Louis team being the victims this time. NEW YORK, 14: BROOKLYN, 1. Two surprises were in store for the handful of spectators who visited the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon to witness the game between the New York and Brooklyn teams. The first was that Buck Ewing was no longer manager of the home team, and the second that the New Yorks won a game. The contest was a one-sided affair, the local players using their sticks with telling effect. The hampions put in four pitchers, two of whom were knocked out of the box and one put out of the game. Howell started in to do the twirling, but after one inning retired in favor of Dunn, who was pounded for seven clean hits, one being a home run and another a of Duan, who was pointed for several and another a three-barger. Kennedy went in to but for Duan in the third inning, but was called out or strikes. He became abusive and was told to keep quiet by Umpire Snyder. He walked as far as the box, when he again began to kick and was ordered to the bench. The Brooklyn team was taken by surprise at this turn of affairs and Kelly and Jennings began to argue with the umpire. Sheekard was called in from let field to do the pitching, keily setting ready to take his place, but at the last moment Manager Hanlon sent McCinnity in to do the ottebing. Considering the lead the New Yorks had be did well. Hawley pitched a stendy game and had excellent control of the ball. The New Yorks scored four runs in the first inning on hits by Van Bultren, Gleason and Selbach and Jennings's error. In the second inning they scored seven runs on flickman's home run, Van Haltren's three-bagger and singles by Gleason, Selbach and Sinth. In the fourth inning two more clins were made on Smith's single, Davis's sacrifice and Hickman's single. On hits by Van Haltren and Selbach in the seventh inning Jennings lift to centre, took second on Dalper's out and scored. Brooklyn's only you was made after two were out in the seventh name. Jennings lift to centre, took second on Dalper's out and scored on Gleason's error. mg Jennings hit to centre, took second Dablen's out and scored on Gleason's error.

EWING NO LONGER MANAGER. George Davis Now in Charge of the New York Tail Enders. It will not be at all surprising to baseball cranks to learn that Buck Ewing is no longer nanager of the New York tail enders. Ewing 'resigned" yesterday and George Davis was appointed to act in his place. Since Freedman secured the New York club in 1895 these men have tried to manage the team:

Davis, Doyle, Watkins, Irwin, Joyce, Anson, ohn B. Day, Fred Hoey and Ewing. This is Davis's second term but nobody knows now long he will last. From the time that Ewng took hold of the New Yorks his hand were tied. He had no authority to purchase players and practically acted at a figurehead on the bench. It is said that there was a combination n the team against Ewing and that the players rebelled against him. Whether this is true or not, the impression prevails among competent critics that the New Yorks as at present constiuted are entitled to the tail end of the League

Fixed are entitled to the table to the table of the table of the team caused all the trouble. It can safely be said that Davis, Gleason, Warner and Van Haltren were jealous of the notoriety given to Selbach, Smith, Hawley and Bowerman for their good playing. I tendered my resignation to Mr. Freedman yesterday morning, but he refused to accept it. I insisted, after which he accepted.

"George Davis has taken advantage of his layoff to go down to Mr. Freedman and work on him. Davis and Gleason had told Freedman that the team was good enough as it was coastituted to-day to be in the first division with that the team was good enough as it was constituted to-day to be in the first division with proper management.

"As far as getting a third basemen was concerned they told Freedman that hickman was good enough to play third base for the New York club. I have been sati-fied right along that the team was no better than a tail-end team. Freedman could have bought the release of Lave Cross for $3,000 before Ed Hanlon bought him. The St. Louis manager held off for three days to give me a chanese to buy him. I could have also bought the release of Wolverton from Chicago for $2,500, the price paid for him by Philadelphis. I had first call but Freedman refused to buy. I also could have had Leachof Pittsburg; in fact he can be bought to-day for $3,500.

"Dayis has been looking over the defunct Atlantic League clubs and has bought Taylor, the deaf and dumb pitcher, from Albany. I understand the price paid for him was $1,200. I am glad to be out of it."

NIAGABA FALLS. July 13.+ The interest in the chief events at the Tenth Congress of the American Whist League is now at its height. The Knickerbocker Whist Club of New York— Elliott. Cramer. Watson and Watkins-are ilton trophy and the championship, the Ham-Iton Club of Chicago and the Chicago Whist Club being even with them, with four wins and one loss. St. Paul has won three and lost two. Racine. Columbus (Ohio), Minneapolis one loss. St. Paul has won three and lost two. Racine. Columbus (Ohio), Minneapolis and Hyde Park of Chicago have each won two and lost three. Cincinnati and Newton, Mass., have each won a single match.

In the A. W. L. contest the Detroit Whist Club has a good lead with four wins and no losses. They beat the second Knickerbocker team to-day—Adams. Church. Robinson and Buchanan—by twenty tricks in twenty-four deals. The Americans of Boston are second to Detroit and the match between these two clubs will probably decide the whole thing, Baltimore. Buffalo and Hamilton. Ontario, being too far behind new to win out.

In the Minneapolis pair contest A. B. Potter and F. Wilcox of the Providence Whist Club are in the lead to date, but they are not sure of their position for more than one round owing to the peculiar and unsatisfactory system of scoring which has been adopted for this contest, calling each deal a match regardless of the number of tricks gained or lost.

In the open events the winners this afternoon and evening were L. Josenbson of Brooklyn and Mrs. Osborne of Detroit, F. H. Dale and J. W. Dusenbury of Scranton. E. McMichael and A. Morphy, Mrs. M. L. Lesser of Boston and W. B. McBee of Providence. A. Deiterich and Miss Goldsborough of Baltimore, George E. Kurtz and C. A. Kreis and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Cooper of Nashville, Tenn.

The only match for progressive fours was decided a tie between M. T. Watts, W. M. Hyman, E. B. Buss, Miss Lucy Blackburn and F. H. Dale, J. W. Dusenbury, J. McMichael and A. Morphy.

JACK POINT WELL BEATEN. BRIGHTON HANDICAP WINNER SUC-CUMBS TO MAXIMO GOMEZ.

Kamara Wipes Out Queen of Song-Lively Bidding and Reprisals Follow Second Race at the Beach-Gleazellie, Annie Thompson and Snark Best of the Two-Year-Olds.

Plenty of action and unrehearsed incidents more than made up for the absence of stake features at Brighton Beach track yesterday afternoon. The weather was magnificent and the track had dried out so well after the heavy rain of the previous evening that regulars who figured over night on soft going were completely portions patronized the popular enclosure, attracted by the bracing ozone and a card that promised excellent sport. The opening race was for mares at a mile, and four turned out with the clever four-yearold Queen of Song topweight and favorite Kamara and Andrisa were rival second choices and the betting was decidedly brisk. After parading, the quartet walked up to the barrier like a team and the crowd burst into applause. The starter was alive to the opportunity and he let them go without a second's nesitation to one of the best breaks ever seen Queen of Song reached the first turn a head in front of Kamara and held that advantage for a quarter, where they changed positions Kamara failed to draw away until they rea hed the homestretch, where Queen of Song threw it up unexpectedly, and the Candlemas filly won easily by a length. The time showed that the

The majority of those who lost on Maher's mount doubled up on Fir t Whip to get even, and enjoyed the gratification of seeing the good thing win easily by a length from Precursor, who beat Carbuncle a similar distance, First Whip was entered to be sold for $2,000, a price that many considered his full value, but F. M. Taylor apparently thought otherwise and raised the colt to $4,500. He ran against a boomerang this time, however. as Jimmy McLaughlin, after protecting the winner, quietly annexed Precursor at a cost of $2.700 and sold him immediately afterward to the Fleischmanns at a big advance. Taylor also fared well on the deal, as his share of the bid-up brought in $1,250, in addition to $125 out of the purse and a fat price for his horse.

With Bounteous, Luke Word and Harlem Lane out of the third race the coast seemed clear for Demurrer, and he was backed heavily at even money. Glennellie ruled second choice, and McCue took her out in front at such a clip that the others were driving from flagfall. The worthy daughter of His Highness held her ad-vantage to the end, winning by a length and a half with Maister, Domutrer and Baron Papper heads apart. The time was within a shade of track record

The bad conduct of Maximo toomez delayed the start in the distance handleap for almost half an hour. Jack Point, the topweight and favorite, was the principal sufferer and the strain told on him when they settled down to racing. The seven contenders ran pretty well bunched to the middle of the backstretch, where Maximo Gomez drew out at a sprinting gait, with Jack Point the only one able to respond. Mike Clanck's now famous "gift horse" crept away at every stride and wen easily by three lengths from the favorite in four-fliths of a second better than the track record made by Erigadier two days before. The "Irish King?" and his horse were cheered to the echo, and Lander struck up. "The Wearing of the Green" to the delight of an appreclative crowd. Clancy, however, has little romance in his composition, and he let the winner go to S. C. Bildreth for $5.000.

Annie Thompson at the liberal odds of 6 to 1 squeezed through by a head in the sel ing dash for two-year olds with three longer shots text in line and the favorite next to last. Snark came to the resoue of the talent in the last race of the day, winning easily by two lengths from Great American, who beat Double Six half a dozen lengths. Jockey thenry rode three winners, and Maher two. Summary:

HANRAHAN THE WINNER. FORMER AMATEUR MIDDLEWEIGHT

End Comes in the Twenty-Arst Round. Referce White Saving the Pennsylvanian After He Had Fallen Out of the Ring-Munroe Draws With Murphy in a Fast Preliminary Bill Hanrahan, the ex-amateur middleweight, finished veteran Jack Bonner in the twenty first round at the Broadway A. C. last night In the first round Hanrahan was nearly knocked out, so that after that he took plenty of time. Bonner received quite a trimming, but he stood the gaff with gameness until the end came. There was a fair-sized crowd present. In the preliminary George Munroe and Hughey Murphy, both of this city, met in a twelve-round bout at 116 rounds. It was a hard fight all the way through, in which Munroe landed repeated swings on the head, but was beaten off by well-direct d straight jabs in the face and body. At the e d of the limit Referee Charley White decided the go a draw. There was no betting to speak of on th Hanrahan-Bonner fight. The former weighed 162 pounds and was handled by Sam Fitzpatrick, Jimmy Barry and Billy Gilbert. Bonner's seconds were Jimmy DeForest, Johnny Gorman and Jack Dolan. Bonner w. ighed about 170 pounds. The conditions were twentyabout 170 pounds. The conditions were twentyfive rounds at eatth weights.

Hanrahan ran in with a couple of swings, one of which staggered Bonner. Then they got into Madison W. to the jaw and Hanrahan went down hard, bleeding from the mouth. When he got up in the eighth count he was unsteady, but he pulled himself together and stayed, at the same time getting to the jaw with a counter that pulled Bonner up in his assault.

Bonner began forcing the fighting in the second round, but Hanrahan, who had recovered, kept well away. Bonner kept coming until Hanrahan shook him up with a couple of wallops on the head. Then they mixed it. Hanrahan again shaking his man with round arm smushes on the neck. Bonner was cartious after that and all his blows were short. Hanrahan wound up the round with another heavy belt in the mouth that made

Jack beat a hasty retreat. It was anybody's fight when the third round began. Bonner used slight lefts in the face and stomach with effect while Hanrahan kept on swinging. Bill drew the blood from the mouth and with more heavy wallops on the head he made Bonner hang on in the clinches. Bonner opened the fourth with long lefts in the rips. He took care, though, to keep away from Hanrahan's heavy right, which was always coming for the law. Hanrahan soon changed his tactics with chopping lefts in the face, which his incities with chopping lefts in the face, which appeared to bother Jack considerably. Hanrahan soon scored a half knock down with a right flush in the stomach, and/when Bonner got up Bill rushed in to finish him. Bonner was still full of fight, however As they mixed it up Hanrahan met his opponent's advance in the fifth with a left hook in the stomach. Bonner came close then and ripped the left over for the law. Hanrahan blocked the punch and drove the left into the stomach, which seemed to be a vital spot. Then it was give and take until a right on the jaw made Bonner clinch. Bonner came back the next moment with more straights in the face, but Hanrahan fought him off at the bell with swings which were not accurate enough to send the Pennsylvanian down.

Bonner put a leit squarely on the mouth as a starter in the sixth Jack followed with a double swing that was well blocked, after which Hanrahan worked at the stomach. Bonner missed a couple of rights and received several straight lefts in the stomach. Hanrahan also cut the left eye open with a heavy swing and also made Bonner clinch with another hot volley of smashes which for the most part were wildly delivered. lev of smashes which for the most part were wildly delivered. Hanrahan had his man wavering at the opening of the seventh, because of fast swings on the face and neck But Bill was slow in following, and Bonner, who railed quickly, shook Hanrahan with a couple of telts on the head. Then it was give and take. Bonner getting a bloody nose. Hanrahan went in for a knock-out but in spite of all he could do Bonner stayed on his feet to the gong.

Blil worked some long choppins letts in the face and as Bonner wearened he went in to finish him. Bonner was still able to stay though, and Bill soon stood off, being contented with letts that were slowly closing Jack's eyes. Hanranan was the stronger and fresher when the bell rang.

Bonner seemed afraid to take a chance as they came up for the ninth. Hanrahan piled in with blows on the head and in the stomach until Jack was lumbering around the ring on the defensive. Hanrahan did all the fighting in the last minute, as Bonner was played out as to wind and legs.

Bonner had revived somewhat in the tenth, and was willing to stand in for a chance. Hanrahan promptly cut loose, and with rapid swings on the head he soon had Bonner staggering all over the ring. But Hanrahan let up toward the close, and lost a fine chance to finish the job.

toward the close, and lost a fine chance to finish the job.

As Bonner began the eleventh with the left in the wind Hanrahan shot a counter to the jaw, which came near ending the fight. Bonner broke ground then, and as he continued to do so Hanrahan tollowed leisurely with blows delivered at long range. This allowed Bonner to regain some of his lost strength and when the round ended he was comparatively strong.

Hanrahan was daking plenty of time in the twelfth and Bonner was rapidly getting back into form. Jack stood away, though, and put in lefts to the stomach. Hanrahan lost chance after chance to stop his man and the crowd hissed at the gong.

in lefts to the stormach. Hanfahan lost chance after chance to stop his man and the crowd hissed at the gong.

Bonner came up strong for the thirteenth. He drove in lefts to the stormach and also put a swinging right over the heart. These blows served to wake Bill up and he began to get in with powerful swings on the head Bill pounded the face with lefts, but there was so little fire in the go that many of the spectators groaned.

Bonner rushed in the fourteenth, getting in a heavy right over the heart. That made Bill flight, and with hard swings he had Bonner redding again. Both of Bonner's eyes were cut and bleeding now, and he was staggering bindly. But Jack rallied with a double swing that made Bill clinch.

Hanrahan received orders to sail in and fluish it in the fifteenth. He began with fast slugging untilbace's face was in ribbons. Bonner was game at that, and tried a terrific right for the jaw. He missed it and Hanrahan beat him to a standstill toward the end.

Bonner was looking for an opening for a chance blow in the sixteenth. He swing a left to the law, but Bill slipped in with antalizing lefts to his battered countenance. Bonner tried a double swing for the head and missed. Then Hanrahan janded the eyes until they were filled with gore and Bonner was a sight, but he was still dang-rous and rushed repeatedly. One of these assaults was mer with an upper cut in the chin which bent Jack's head book and made him hug. Hanrahan sayed away in the last half and jabbed.

In the eighteenth Hanrahan continued to jab his man's face into a pulp, but he did not hustle.

him hug. Hanrahan stayed away in the last half and jabbed.

In the eighteenth Hanrahan continued to jab his man's face into a pulp, but he did not hustle and Bonner was able to swing many blows that had enough power in them to stop Bill if they had reached the proper mark.

Bonner did the bulk of the fighting in the nineteenth, but inflicted no damage, as Hanrahan kept out of harm's way with special care.

In the twentieth Bonner was in trouble once more, but hanrahan did not foliow him up and the round ended in a walk around.

The twenty-first round was hardly under way when Hanrahan scored a clean knockdown with a heavy left in the stomach. When Jack got up he was ready to fall again. Hanrahan rushed and as the men came together with a crash Bonner fell over hackward through the ropes on top of a little bald-headed man. White then interfered and gave the fight to Hanrahan. Bonner had his left leg injured and was carried from the ring.

Snooting Pigeons With a Repeating Rifle. was pulled off to-day at Dupont Park. The contestants were Dr. J. W. Smith and Alec has long existed. The shoot was at ten live birds, with 22-caliber repeating rifles, each man to have as many shots as he could pull, standing at twenty-six yards. All birds were sprung from a No. 1 trap. The score: Smith 1 1 0 0 1 0 0 1 Mermod 1 0 0 1 0 1 0 1 The fewest number of shots required to bag a bird was two and the largest filteen. With the exception of three, all the birds were brought down with a rifle bullet and some hits were remarkable. The men will shoot again.

NEWS OF THE WREELMEN.

Chief Consul Belding of the New York State division. L. A. W., arrived at the headquarters in Nassau street vesterday. He was asked What do you think of the fizzle of the national meet at Milwaukee?" He replied: "It is just what might have been expected. There are not 5.000 League members west of the Pennsylvania State line and it is absurd to hold a national meet in Wisconsin. I was not here to say anything, but the sentiment quoted in THE Sux on Friday you can say that I scho and am willing to add to in detail. The League decidedly is tardy in learning that it should pay attention to its geographical centre of membership. It would be better to hold all meets in the East, at some resort where a good time is assured and yet not in a big city. A midsummer meet should be at a summer resort. Atlantic City. Asbury Park and such places will attract Westerners, but Chicago or Milwaukee or Louisville will not attract coast dwellers during the heated term. That seems simple enough for a child, yet the League every other year plants a fizzle of a League meet in the far Westin July."

There is no big century for to-morrow. Val-ley Stream will be the railying place of the "pluggers" and the chances of new ones tast-ing the "dope" and "getting the fever" will be as plenty as ever. The club runs sched-uled this month are scanty Following are those sent in:

MILWAUKEE, July 13—The first of the N. C. A. chamrior ship races were held at the Exposition Building last evening and quite a good trogramme of sport was offered. After a day of chaos in the local L. A. W. fizzle George G. Greenburg, the Western repres native of the N. C. A. took charge of the racing end and decided not to try to run the trial and semi-finals in the morning and afternoon. In the evening four events were ron off, but not one of the big fellows of the circuit competed in the finals. Cooper, Kramer Taylor, Stevens and McFarland of the professionals and Van Cott and Denny of the amateurs refused to ride and left the city. Kiser, Kimble and Oldfield competed, but did not qualify. Neither did they try to very hard. About two thousand persons were present. There was only one spill, in which Orlando Weber of this city was badly hurt in the one-mile I. C. U. race. In all events not more than four riders at a time were allowed to compete, but even with this small constraints and the role came out not more than four rigers at a time were al-lowed to compete, but even with this small number the man who had the pole came out first at the tape. Boston. July 13.—Johnny Nelson did some sensational riding at Charles River Park tonight. Owing to rain last evening the customary two hours race was not held, and the four riders made good their promises that to-night they would more than make up for it. It was a race full of sourts, Miller doing plucky work. Up to the last minute it was a sees w for first place. Nelson covered 67 miles and three-quarters of a lap, Pierce came second with 66 2-3 miles; Miler, 64 2-3 miles, and Stinson, 64 1-3 miles. From the fifty-ninth mile up the times were the fastest of the week. The totals for the four racing periods are: Nelson, 250% miles, Miller, 244% miles.

RILLE RIBBONS AT ATLANTIC CITY. Large Throng at Third Day of the Scaside

ATLANTIC CITY, July 13.-More than five thousand people visited the Atlantic City Horse Show yesterday. Clemmie Dell, bay mare, driven by George Webb, won the blue ribbon in the roadsters' class. She won a feature. Little Miss Marie Fitzsin mons of Philadelphia drove Perrywinkle and cap-tured first honors. The pairs in harness elicited much applause and the contest was very close. Arden and Arlington, owned by William H. Barnard of New York, re-ceived the blue ribbon. Thomas Deford, tandem team. Epsom, ch. g., led by Ascot, became fractious and kicked over the traces. The horse was taken from the ring. In the hunting class William McLay was thrown from his bay mare Black Witch. He was hurled against the fence and sightly injured. The

The semi-final and final rounds for the championship of the Harlem Hill Club were played on the club links yesterday afternoon and the big gallery that turned out to witness the struggle between the club cracks who survived saw some exceptionally good play. In the semi-final round V. Garrett beat A. B. Lowson, by 5 up and 3 to play; V. Hockmeyer beat R. F. Mathew, by 5 up and 3 to play. This brought V. Garrett and V. Hockmeyer together in the final round, and after a sprirted contest the latter beat Garrett, by 3 up and 2 to play. The winner will meet O. Hockmeyer, the present holder of the champion-spip, on July 31 at thirty-six holes.

come down to weight without imperilling his constitution has convinced the sports that Square Garden next Monday night and the lightweight champion is now a slight favorite in the betting. The figures are only quoted at 10 to 0½, but the price is gratifying enough to the McGovern followers who are snapping at every wager in sight. Sam Harris, McGovern's manager, is speculating heavily on his protègé. McGovern is still hard at work and is not losing any time in getting into shape. Erne is below 128 pounds, the limit at which the mill is to be fought.

Some of the big bettors decry the slightest chance of McGovern being knocked out. They argue that if any one succumbs inside of the ten rounds it will be Erne. McGovern, they figure, has met cleverer men than Erne already and has yet to be beaten.

Joe Vendig has a commission of $2,000 to back McGovern. He thinks that Erne will meet his Waterloo, Jack Adler has $2,500 to place on McGovern. Al Smith, who is a great admirer of Terry, thinks the lad from Brooklyn will trim Erne and do the trick decisively. Phil Dwyer, the noted hor eman, when asked his opinion of the battle said: "I look forward to a great contest. It will be a test of skill against sheer strength. I am a friend of both boys and will not bet a cent. My sympathles are with Terry because he is from Brooklyn."

The followers of boxing in Brooklyn will have plenty of bouts to choose from to night. Four clubs have "goes" scheduled and many of the bouts look attractive. The Greenwood A. C. will pull off a mill between Tim Kearns and Jim Burke of this city. Twenty rounds is the limit. Two preiminary bouts will precede. Jack Lowery and Hilly Barrett are carded to come together at the Sampson A. C. for twenty rounds. At the Pelican A. C. several important contents will be held. The Casino Special six and ten-round about ten three-round bouts.
